From the Acting
Deputy

Principal's Desk

"I would have so liked to have videoed each class of children – safe, warm and occupied while Mother Nature vented her anger outside."

A week later and the water has subsided and the mud mopped up, but the amazing sense of pride that I was filled with during the devastating storm last week, still remains. It was truly a remarkable event to witness, and as the storm intensified and panic stricken parents rushed in to our offices to 'rescue' their children, our office and teaching staff just rallied together to deal with it all. It was an amazing feeling walking from classroom to classroom to check on our precious cargo, only to find every class calmly and quietly sitting at their desks, teacher 100% in control, and an activity underway in every classroom. I would have so liked to have videoed each class of children – safe, warm and occupied while Mother Nature vented her anger outside.

Thank you to every one of our staff for your common sense and the calm controlled manner in which you handled the situation. Special mention must go to Mrs Liebenberg, Mrs Vosloo, Mrs Munz and Mrs Johnston who efficiently grabbed mops, answered telephones and assisted each and every one of the almost four hundred parents who came streaming (literally) through our front office that day. What a pleasure to work with you all!

Another recent 'high' of a different nature was the incredible opportunity I was given of attending the International Principals' Convention in Cape Town. What a privilege and an honour to rub shoulders with principals and delegates from every corner of the earth: Iceland to China, Australia to Ghana, Holland to Canada! Thirty different countries were represented and the international speakers and workshops left one feeling uplifted and with a sense of purpose. Admittedly some of the technological advancements such as 'Robotics' and 'Artificial Intelligence' left one somewhat dizzy, however the development of 'MOOCS' (on-line teachers) extending quality teaching and learning to remote areas which were previously educationally alienated, opens a whole new world of skills, sharing and collaboration. All in all it was truly a humbling yet emotionally charged five day whirlwind for me, and the upwelling of pride and unashamed tear or two that I shed when we sang our national anthem and closed the convention with the flag ceremony was something unprecedented for me. Thank you to Chelsea and our School Governing Body for affording me this phenomenal experience.

Back to school, our fourth term is already in full swing with sport, extra murals and, of course, end of year exams. May I remind the grade 6 pupils that their Service Team applications are due by Friday 20 October 2017, and I encourage each one of them to take the invitation of choosing a team that best fits them seriously, so that they can grow in fulfilment next year as their team makes its own difference serving our school and community.

SPORTS NEWS

Dear Parents

With two more weeks of sport before the start of the final examinations, an appeal is once more made to parents to please allow your children to continue to participate in sport. As mentioned in last week's signal, the academic term is planned in such a way as to allow your children, with proper time management, to have ample preparation time to be properly prepared for the examinations. Being active in sport also enables your children to learn valuable skills that will better prepare them for the demands of high school. There is a large number of pupils, especially boys who have played cricket in term one, who are no longer playing due to wanting more time to prepare for exams.

We do require many of our pupils to be active, in all four terms, to enable Chelsea to continue playing sports fixtures against our traditional schools. In order to maintain our association with these schools, we are required to have a certain number of teams to make the fixture against Chelsea a "worthwhile" ones. An example of this is that for our cricket fixture against Virginia this week, two of our cricket teams will have to play twice in order to match the number of teams that Virginia have.

We have a similar number of pupils as Virginia and the only difference is that their boys are continuing to play sport this term, whereas our boys have given up sport this term.

History rap

SUMMAN: The journey on camels took 3 months to complete but the Sahara desert gave them many difficulties.

KENDAL: Many hot days and many cold nights scorpions and snakes that make you tremble with fright.

NABIHA: Camels have two toed feet with leathery pads which stop them sinking into the sand. Camels were loaded with rugs and swords, blings and things and many more.

EMMA: Now we are going to talk about their religion like West Africans converted to Muslim. Now in Arabic they could read and write so now when they traded they could get it right.

LEAH: Mansa Musa travelled the land and he had the kingdom in the palm of his hand. If Mansa Musa was alive today he'd be the richest man in anyway. The King before him...

ELLA: ...went and never came back. So the kingdom decided to give him the sack.

Inspiring Bear Grylls Quotes

1. "You only get one chance at life and you have to grab it boldly."
– Bear Grylls
2. "Adventure should be 80 percent 'I think this is manageable,' but it's good to have that last 20 percent where you're right outside your comfort zone. Still safe, but outside your comfort zone."
– Bear Grylls
3. "The difference between ordinary and extra-ordinary is so often just simply that little word – extra. And for me, I had always grown up with the belief that if someone succeeds it is because they are brilliant or talented or just better than me... and the more of these words I heard the smaller I always felt! But the truth is often very different... and for me to learn that ordinary me can achieve something extra-ordinary by giving that little bit extra, when everyone else gives up, meant the world to me and I really clung to it..." – Bear Grylls
4. "Survival is not about being fearless. It's about making a decision, getting on and doing it, because I want to see my kids again, or whatever the reason might be." – Bear Grylls
5. "Being brave isn't the absence of fear. Being brave is having that fear but finding a way through it." – Bear Grylls
